United States District Court for the Western District of Tennessee

January 21, 2014

U.S. District Court for the Western District of Tennessee One of the Most Productive Federal District Courts in America

A report recently released by the Administrative Office of the United States Courts lists the Western District of Tennessee as one of America's Most Productive Federal District Courts for 2013. The Western District has jurisdiction over federal cases arising in 22 counties located in the western part of the state. The District consists of two divisional offices - the Eastern Division located in Jackson and the Western Division located in Memphis. The District currently has 4 active District Judges (the 5th district judge position is vacant awaiting Senate confirmation of Judicial Nominee Sheryl Lipman), 2 Senior District Judges and 4 Magistrate Judges. The District Court in the Western District of Tennessee has made the "most productive" list the last five years.

Clerk of Court, Thomas M. Gould
