

Hutchison School Explores Legal System at the District Court

On October 15, 2024, freshman students from Hutchison School had the opportunity to visit the U.S. District Court as part of their “Legal Experience Day.” The students were welcomed by U.S. District Judge Jon P. McCalla, who provided an engaging overview of the Court’s history and its role in shaping West Tennessee. They also heard from U.S. Magistrate Judge Annie T. Christoff, who shared insights into the judicial process, as well as Assistant U.S. Attorney Carroll André and Assistant Federal Public Defender Mary Catherine Jermann-Robinson, who offered perspectives on the practice of law and the importance of advocacy in the justice system.
