

From the Court to the Classroom

U.S. District Court was asked to come to Madison Academic two days during the Fall semester to meet with two different Government & Econ Classes. On October 22nd and December 1st, a combined six representatives attended the classes to discuss their roles within the Court. Students heard from a law clerk, a practicing attorney, a Judge, a U.S. Marshal deputy, a Federal Probation Officer, and a Juvenile Court Director.
