A two-day conference was held with the Sixth Circuit at which U.S. District Court Judge Mark S. Norris, Chief Magistrate Judge Tu M. Pham, and Civics Outreach Coordinator Blair Moore were in attendance. The topics presented ranged from establishing outreach committees, the use of civics websites, hosting Teachers Law Schools, resources from the AO, and Civics Learnings Centers. Roundtable sessions were also held, giving attendees an opportunity to network and exchange ideas and practices in their own Courts. The Western District of Tennessee intends to use the valuable information and resources provided to further grow its Civics outreach program.
